

I never authorized my number on a call list. So then why are you challenging the do not call list. It is after all my number not yours. I want it left alone.